

General Auction Selling

Our experienced team of valuers are always pleased to offer advice on the saleability of any item, and its value.

Should you decide to enter items into one of our auctions, they will be inspected by one of our valuation team.

They will advise on the type of sale into which they should be entered, and the reserve (minimum price) which should be accepted for them.

If you have larger items which you wish to sell, we can arrange to visit your premises/ home to inspect them and, for a small extra charge, collect and deliver them to the Salerooms.

Any agreed reserves will be clearly indicated on our presale entry forms/appraisal forms.

We do require notification of goods a week before the auction.

Goods will be accepted on the Thursday prior to the Monday auction between 9am-4pm only.

Once goods have been entered for auction they cannot be withdrawn prior to auction under any circumstances.

Any electrical items entered for auction must be in full working order, if an item is returned, full commission will be charged.

Commission on goods is 15% + VAT

Photographs may be taken of particularly interesting lots and will be published on our website and will be advertised locally.

After the auction, providing your items have sold, we will forward you a cheque (less our charges) after 7 days.

Any unsold items MUST be collected the following day of Auction between 9am-1pm. Any items not collected and are left on the premises will incur storage charges.

We do offer a free collection of goods within a 20 mile radius.
